

LOBO E FALCÃO 2020

Vinho regional Tejo

Fans of smooth, mouthfilling wines take note – this is a sure contender for the Big Red crown, now with over 1,000 5-star reviews. A delicious blend of Portuguese grapes from a former royal falconry, it has lovely warmth, richness and spicy fruit.

Tasting Notes

Very supple and smooth; lots of ripe, red berry fruits; oaky notes

Aroma

Wild brambles, sweet spices and mocha

More information

Red - Full bodied

14% ABV

Castelão-based blend

10.5 Units

Portugal

750.00ml

Very deep crimson

22 February, 2025

Wine Spectator calls Portugal “the most exciting wine place on the planet”, with its terrific range of native grape varieties and wines that always offer standout value. The rich, mouthfilling Lobo e Falcão fits firmly in that category. It’s made at a 17th century estate owned by the Lobo de Vasconcelos family, once the location of the king’s falconry. Special barrels of wine were kept for the king when he visited. Today, talented winemaker Joana Lopes makes this red specially for us, blending Syrah with Portugal’s exciting native grapes. Previously awarded a Wine Enthusiast Best Buy Award, the 2020 has lovely intensity of flavour due to another dry year. Generous wild berry fruit and spice with a velvet texture – a very moreish red.

*Beautiful. Fabulous flavour
Online 5-star Review*

Joana Lopes is the young and talented winemaker at this historic Portuguese estate, assisted by consultant Manuel Lobo