

Bottle Conditioned (Pet-Nat) Dry Bittersweet cider

This bottle contains wild fermented ciders which have been aged in neutral Irish whisky barrels and allowed to mature in our cellar. Each production is unique, and we change them faster than we change our website listing... just rest assured that it is 100% Killahora terroir based juice, wild fermented, cask aged and unlike most ciders you've tried.

This is a real expression of our natural terroir and will appeal to those who may enjoy other wild fermented liquids such as lambic beer especially Oude gueuze, and natural wines. The complexity that can come from ciders such as these will undoubtedly surprise and delight those who try it.

Tasting Notes:

Sparkling and pale yellow, cloudiness at finish with natural sediment

Summer apple softness, baked brioche, lots of oak barrel character with subtle hints of aged whiskey and a white pepper finish with some characteristic wild fermented notes.

Serve:

Lightly chilled as a complex sipper or goes with almost any food.

Pairing:

Serve with cooked meats, oily fish or roasted vegetables. A real food all rounder given its balance of acidity and tannins.

Vintage:

2023

Alcohol:

6.0%

Bottle Size:

750ml
