CHATEAU LARY LACOMBE

2024 - BORDEAUX BLANC SAUVIGNON

OVERVIEW

This family wine farm is located at 50 kilometres to the South-East of Bordeaux and 10 kilometres from La Réole, on the Entre-deux-Mers area. It is in this region that the Queen of England, Aliénor d'Aquitaine, had the first vines planted in 1150. In 1850 the domain was bought by Angelo Forcato. From 1960, Angelo's son Aron and his grandsons started to expand and modernize it, while still respecting tradition. Today, Serge takes over part of the estate and produces a wine under the name Château Lary Lacombe located on the lands of Saint-Vivien de Monséguir.

VINEYARD
