75 Vines Garnacha

Produced by Bodegas Castillo de Monjardín in D.O. Navarra, northern Spain, this Garnacha comes from the La Cantera vineyard in the Monjardín Valley, where vines over 75 years old grow at 500 metres above sea level on rounded pebble soils. The old vines produce lower yields with concentrated fruit and natural freshness.

The grapes are harvested at night when temperatures are lower to help preserve freshness and acidity while avoiding oxidation and premature fermentation. After fermentation, the wine spends six months in oak, adding subtle spice and structure while still allowing the bright fruit character of the Garnacha to remain at the centre.
